There are indications of several other graves.

The first record we have been able to find is that of his marriage to Susan Hughes, June 28, 1755, from William and Mary quarterly, Cumberland County, Va. No children from this marriage.

PASCAGOULA LIBRARY
GENEALOGY COLLECTION

And also his second marriage to Elizabeth Pledge, with William Pledge's letter of consent, Feb. 12, 1760, original marriage bond, Goochland Co., Va. marriage record. Twelve children from this marriage.

Thomas Poindexter called of Goochland Co., buys two tracts of land, in 1760, on one of these deeds Nimrod Poindexter was a witness. Deed book 8-70-77.

Feb. 19, 1760 Thomas Poindexter of St. James Parish, Goochland Co., sells one of the lots of land bought in Jan. 1760 and on April 15, 1760 his wife Elizabeth relinquishes dower. 8-246-248.

In March 1772 Thomas Poindexter is called of Carolina. Fee book 1772 page 12.

He is also called the same in 1773 page 31.

Jan. 13, 1762 Thomas Poindexter sells two parcels of land, 90 acres each which he bought in 1758, and on May 18, 1762 his wife Elizabeth relinquishes her dower.

Sep. court 1765, on the motion of Nimrod Poindexter, at the suit of David Clarkson, it is ordered that the said Thomas Poindexter, pay him for three day attendance and coming and returning, sixty miles twice, 430 lbs., of tobacco. Order book 10-87.

From the above Thomas seems to have been in Goochland Co., up to 1765 and between that and 1772 he moved to N. C. Surrey Co. He was also closely related in some way to Nimrod, who lived in Newkent Co., Va.

We find that he invested in five hundred acres of land in N. C., near East Bend where he reared a large family of twelve children.

He, Thomas, was in the Revolution, said to have fought at Kings Mountain and Cowpens. A certificate of his services, both as private and Captain of Militia can be secured, and the data may be found in North Carolina Revolutionary Army Accounts.

Vol. VIII, Page 75 Folio 4, and Page 76 Folio I-- in possession of N. C., Historical Commission.

Thomas Poindexter died Jan. 1st, 1806, Division of his land was made in 1807.

His wife Elizabeth Pledge Poindexter died February 9, 1816. Their Children's names follow:

HENRY PATTILLO (Pattulloch in Scotland)

HENRY PATTILLO, born near Dundee, Scotland, came to America about 1840. He pursued his studies for the Presbyterian ministry at Edinburgh, Virginia. There he married Mary Anderson in 1755.

After examination and reception into the ministry he continued to pursue his studies until he was sent to England in the service of Princeton College.

He afterwards served churches of Virginia for several years, and then removed to North Carolina in 1785, where he served churches in Orange and Bute (now Franklin and Warren) counties. Later he moved to a colony to Granville County, settling 12 miles north of Oxford, and serving the churches of Nutbush and Grassy Run Creek for about 20 years. He also taught a classical school in Oxford.

For his scholarly attainments, Hampden-Sydney conferred upon him the degree of Master of Arts, April 25, 1787. He died in 1801.

All Pattillos in the U.S. are related, being descended from two brothers, Henry and George Pattillo.

Henry Pattillo in the Revolution: Because of his prominence, Henry Pattillo was one of those sent by Gov. Tryon to Pacify the Regulators, also served on the Committee of Safety in the Halifax District. He was a delegate to the Provincial Congress at Hillsboro, N.C. in August, 1775. Being a minister he was made Chaplain of the Congress. He was Chairman of the Committee of the Whole when this Congress first considered the "Mecklenburg Resolutions" for independence. These resolutions were tabled for the time, but the next Spring when the Provincial Congress met at Halifax to choose delegates to the Continental Congress at Philadelphia, the resolutions were again considered and adopted, some two months before the "Declaration of Independence" was adopted at Philadelphia, July 4, 1776.

Henry Pattillo was Chairman of the Committee of the Whole when Independence was declared by the Provincial Congress of North Carolina during the Revolution, when that body instructed its delegates to the Continental Congress--Colonial Records. The above facts were taken from "Sketches of North Carolina and the Churches of Orange and Granville Counties", Chapter 18, by Rev. William Henry Foote.

Pascagoula, MS 39567

Dear Ms. Strickland:

What a surprise when I opened your letter and found PAGES of information! When Pat Edwards referred to a "paper" about Young GOLEMAN, I thought she meant just one page and that $2.00 would cover any photocopy and postage fees. Now I am intrigued and would like to have the rest of the pages in the file. I am enclosing a check for $5.00 and hope that will be sufficient. If not I will be happy to pay the balance.

Do you have any information about the family of Phoebe GILL who was the first wife of Young GOLEMAN?

I am also looking for information about the James BARNES family. He married Mary (May) HOOD and had the following children:

James M. Barnes b. ca 1858	m. 11 Aug 1886	Martha Mary Monk
Thomas Sylvester Barnes b. 2 June 1859	m.	Ida Belle Harper
George Washington Barnes b. 9 Nov 1866	m. 18 Apr 1888	Saraphine Edith Bosarge
John Daniel Barnes b. 16 Aug 1869	m. 24 Mar 1894	Carrie Artemis Bosarge
Idella Barnes
Frank Barnes

George W. and John D. Barnes lived in Biloxi; George was a boat builder and John had a store. The Biloxi Library has the BOSARGE book compiled by Mary Adkinson, to which I contributed a small section, but does not have any information on the BARNES family. If you do not have any information, I will gladly share what I have.

Sincerely,

Carol

P.S. Please include a list of books about your area, if it's not too much trouble. Thank you.

Dear Carol:

Enclosed are the copies that you requested.
Some may be duplicates, since I am unsure of what I sent before.

We would like to have any information on the Barnes family that you would share with us.
We have nothing on this family. We have a Barnes file but it is about another family not remotely connected with this area.

If we can be of further service, please let us know.

Losing control of her automobile while returning to her home at Graveline from Pascagoula, Mrs. Carl Vanner and a small boy passenger narrowly escaped drowning Saturday when the car plunged into the canal at the north side of the highway just outside Pascagoula.

The car was submerged several feet under the water but both Mrs. Vanner and the child managed to escape without injury, according to County Highway Patrolman Levert Bosarge, who investigated the accident.

Government To Give Education Help To Veterans

Parents and relatives of American fighting men will be interested in the final enactment into law of the American Legion's "G. I. Bill of Rights," Commander Roy Wingfield of the Jackson County Legion Post, announced.

The bill has been before Congress many months and was passed by unanimous votes after administrative difference had been ironed out.

Under its provisions, Mr. Talbot said, and veteran whose education was interfered with by his war service may resume schooling after his discharge, provided he has served 90 days or longer. In the case of a veteran who was not over 25 at the time he entered service, the legislation presumes his education was interfered with; those over 25 must prove interference. Maximum schooling is limited to four years, dependent upon the veteran's length of service. The government will pay not more than $500 annually for tuition and fees in addition to $50 monthly subsistence allowance if there are no dependents and $75 where the veteran has dependents.

Loans to Veterans

To help veterans purchase homes, farms or small businesses, the legislation provides for government-guaranteed loans by private or public lending agencies at not more than 4 percent interest, repayable in 20 years, with the veterans' administration absorbing the interest charges for

Elbert Barnes Of Escatawpa Killed In Plane Crash

The sole Army passenger in a transport plane which crashed during a storm high in the Maine mountains, the body of one of the six victims found by searchers, has been identified as that of Sgt. Elbert R. Barnes, radio mechanic in the Army Air Corps and son of the Rev. and Mrs. A. N. Barnes of Escatawpa, according to official notification received by Mr. and Mrs. Barnes.

The crash occurred June 20 on 3,900-foot Fort Mountain in the Katahdin range near Millinocket, Me. The discovery of the bodies 30 feet from the wreckage of the four-engined plane followed eight days of continuous effort to reach the scene of the catastrophe. The plane carried mail, cargo, a civilian contract crew of six and Sgt. Barnes the passenger and was enroute from England to Washington. The pilot was believed to be Captain Rodger Inman, one of the famous brothers who operated the Inman Brothers Flying Circus, and, with his brother entered the service during the early part of the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes had received a wire two days earlier that Sgt. Barnes was missing.

Sgt. Barnes, who was 23 years old, was born in Escatawpa and attended school there, later graduating from the Moss Point High school. He attended Graceland College in Mona, Iowa, for two years. He was a member of the Latter Day Saints church.

After leaving school, he worked at the Southern Kraft division of the International Paper Mill and later at the Ingalls Shipyard. He enlisted in Atlanta in the Air Corps and received his training in Miami, Fla., Madison, Wis., and Presque Isle, Maine. He was then sent to Newfoundland and had been stationed there for the past six months. His last visit home was a year ago when he spent a 15-day furlough with his parents in July.

He is survived by his parents, four brothers, Pvt. Lesoy Barnes who has been overseas about seven months and is now in New Guinea, Curtis, Otis and Myron Barnes, Escatawpa, four sisters, Margie, Ivon, Wilda Pearl and Wanda Merle Barnes, all of Escatawpa and both grandmothers, Mrs. Della Davis, Escatawpa and Mrs. Isabel Barnes Mobile.

The body will be sent to his home for burial.

Jackson County slowly increased its overall quota for the 5th War Loan Drive, but lagged badly in the sale of "E" Bonds, reports tabulated this week showed.

With the drive scheduled to officially end Saturday, figures Wednesday of this week showed total War Bond sales of $1,403,135, or slightly more than $100,000 over the county's overall quota of $1,305,000.

Total sale of "E" Bonds was $463,986, or approximately $200,000 behind the county's "E" Bond quota of $663,000.

Figures showed that the sales in the 5th War Loan were lagging behind the sales during the same period for the 4th War Loan, despite the invasion of Europe by American and Allied forces.

"One of the most important phases of the 5th War Loan Drive, and all other War Loan Drives, is to meet the "E" Bond quota," W. B. Herring, county war finance chairman, said. "Our government emphasizes the sale of this type of bond as one of the most direct controls of inflationary tendencies.

"We have only a limited time left to reach our quota," he added. "If every citizen of Jackson county will make the necessary sacrifice, we can meet and pass it."

One of the few complete reports from outlying sections came from the St. Martin school district, which, with a quota of $3,000, showed total sales of $2,812.50, of which $2,612.50 was "E" bonds. With the time remaining it was believed that the district will go well over its quota.

Meanwhile, nearly complete reports are expected for next week and, with unreported sales from outlying and rural districts, the overall picture of the sales was expected to be better.

ANIMAL PICTURES HER MEAT

Baltimore — A collection of about 15,000 animal news stories and pictures might be just a conglomeration of clippings to the casual observer, but to Mrs. Hazel W. Freese of Baltimore, it's "animaliana."

The Martin aircraft personnel worker, who says she would rather be "personnel director of a zoo," holds a master's degree in philosophy from the University of Chicago.

She began her hobby seven years ago and has complete files on animal heroes, criminals, entertainers, diseases, animals at war, experimental animals and educated animals. For virtually every phase of publicized human activity, Mrs. Freese has a clipping on its animal counterpart.

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1944

Funeral Services Held For Victim Of Plane Crash

Under the folds of the United States flag in whose service he lost his life, Sergeant Elbert R. Barnes, killed in a crash of a transport plane in the Maine mountains, came home to Escatawpa Sunday.

Accompanied by a military honor guard, the casket bearing the body of the 23-year-old Army Air Corps radio mechanic, was taken to the Church of the Latter Day Saints where services were conducted by the Rev. Franklin Stener of Mobile assisted by the Rev. A. G. Miller of Vancleave. Pallbearers were soldiers from Keesler Field and burial was in the Escatawpa cemetery.

A service was also held at Presque Isle, Maine, July 4th, before the body was sent home, when a firing squad of soldiers fired three volleys over the casket and a bugler played the solemn notes of Taps.

Sergeant Barnes was the son of Rev. and Mrs. A. N. Barnes. He was one of an estimated seven victims of the crash of the four-engined plane high in the mountains. Searchers attempted for nearly a week to locate the wreckage. Young Barnes was the only Army passenger in the plane at the time of the storm which brought the craft down. He was enroute from England to Washington. He had previously been stationed in Newfoundland.

A native of Escatawpa, he had attended the schools there and at Moss Point and before joining the service had worked at the Southern Kraft Paper Mill and at Ingalls Shipyard.

tones demands entrance. Miss Cats never brought us any ugly ones so, of course, this is the kind of kitten that is to be seen on magazine covers, gray and white, and round as a butter ball. Owing to the loss of Blackie by death and Purrino by misadventure, our cat supply has lately been confined to Twinkle. And has he enjoyed being the only cat.

Twinkle Dims
But alas, he now sits and glowers at the newcomer and woe to the latter if he so much as looks at his (Twinkle's) tail, let alone play with it, the air is filled with growls and a husky paw is reached out to mow, Winkle, for that's the new little kitten's name, down.

Enooper
We'll have to wait for time for another kitten crop to know about Miss Cats. We never see her until she comes with her mouth full of kitten. In the meantime, as there is no nook or cranny that Winkle has not already investigated, we are at wits end to keep him out of the Christmas tree. Anyway he did find a bright ball with his name on it dangling from one of the branches on Christmas morning. Twinks disdained the collar of bells we made for him. He's a grown-up cat, he'd have you know, when Mickey McGuire is not around to chase him up on the top of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Barnes and daughter Connie, arrived from Canton where he has been with the chamber of commerce and will visit his daughter, Mrs. Duell Hewlett and family, 1101 14th and Mrs. Francis Hoyston and family in Mobile. Dear Betty:

I am enclosing my family group sheets that take me back to Abram Barnes and Martha Fort Barnes. I thought you might find it interesting just how I connect to the Fort family. As I said in the card I am very appreciative of your quick response and the copies of the early Fort information and also the pages that include Martha and Abram Barnes. I hope to see a copy of the book in the near future.

I would be interested in seeing a list of the books on Covington Co., MS that Jean Strickland has authored. Would you be able to send me her address and I can drop her a line? The part of Covington Co where my father lived became Jefferson Davis County in 1906. The house where my father grew up is still in the little town of Bassfield and I enjoy going for visits and hitting the Court Houses and libraries in all the counties that are in area.

I got my latest Southern Queries today and I have been going through it with interest and saw a couple of queries that have proven of interest to me. I wish you happy hunting with your branch of the Fort family and if I see anything that I think might be helpful to you I will make a copy and send to you. Please keep in touch and once again thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Patsy Foster

Dear Mrs Rodgers:

I am a subscriber of Southern Queries and I saw with interest your query in the November-December issue regarding the Fort family as well as other lines. My interest was drawn to the mention of a book written about the Fort family because I am interested in obtaining a copy. The book you mentioned was "Family Called Fort" by Fort and Jones.

I see you live in MS. and I too have roots in MS. My father Louis B. Applewhite was born 1901 in Covington Co., MS. My father's mother was Lula Barnes out of Columbia, Marion Co., MS. and it is through this Barnes family that I have a Fort connection. My 4th great grandfather Abram Barnes was married to Martha Fort. Abram was born ca 1730 in North Carolina. He served in the Revolutionary War out of the state of North Carolina. Both Abram and Martha Fort Barnes died in Robeson Co., N.C. Abram died in 1794 and Martha died ca 1790. I believe Abram was born in Edgecombe Co., N.C. and possibly married Martha in that county.

I am wondering if through this brief bit of information you could tell if this Fort book could possibly hold any hint of a family connection to me. I know nothing else about my Fort connection and so to hear about this book was very interesting to me.

I have enclosed a self addressed stamped envelope and hope at your convenience you might reply if you know where I might obtain a copy of this book. If these Fort's were not in North Carolina they probably are not of my family. Thanks for any help you could give me.

Sincerely,

Patsy J. Foster

Dear Pat,

In 1992 we exchanged notes on the Prodigy Genealogy Bulletin Board. I mailed some data to you on Young GOLEMON and you told me about the Jackson County Library which I was able to visit twice, a very good repository. Last night I was reading a list you typed on the BB starting on 8/11/92. It is a wonderful, long list of rolls of soldiers from MS Territory in the War of 1812. Several of my ancestors are listed, including Young GOLEMON, and some names may later prove to be related. You were really generous to type that for everyone to have for future reference.

At the end of the lists you wrote that you have two passions in genealogy and one is the pre-1850 BARFIELD family. I recently found a possible connection between my BARNES family and a BARFIELD and wonder if you have any information on any of these people through either your BARFIELD or EDWARDS research.

A Prodigy member sent this data to me: Thomas and Mary DAVIS moved from NC to Sumter Co., SC circa 1800. She may have been the daughter of Richard and Mary EDWARDS of Johnston Co., NC. Accompanying the DAVIS family when they moved to SC were the following sons-in-law: Hayard WORREL, Daniel BARFIELD, Jacob BARNES, Lempsy WATSON, John HIX and STUCKEY.

My interest is primarily in Jacob BARNES who may be an ancestor. I have been tracking the descendants of Jacob and Sarah BARNES and of James and Mary LENOIR BARNES of Sumter Co., SC. Some lived in Choctaw, Dale, Marengo, Mobile & other counties in AL and in Hancock, Harrison, Jones, Rankin and other counties in MS. They intermarried with BROWN, GOLEMON, HOOD and others.

I am enclosing a pedigree chart with some FGSs and have much more data on these families, particularly BARNES and HOOD, who descend from Nathaniel HOOD of Wayne and Johnston Counties, NC. I will certainly appreciate any assistance or suggestions. Thank you for any help.

Sincerely,

Carol

DEATH OF AN OLD CONFEDERATE VETERAN.

After a lingering illness, which was endured with great fortitude becoming a soldier, Mr. ORA PINKNEY BARNES passed away at his home on Telephone road, near Scranton, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, aged 65 years.

Mr. Barnes was a native of North Carolina, and during his infancy his parents came to Mississippi and settled in Carroll county. He was a printer by trade, and as is usual with men of this profession was well informed. He was an extensive reader and had the faculty of remembering what he read, which made him an entertaining conversationalist.

When war's rude alarm broke the peaceful quietude and put in motion the great struggle between the States he was among the first to respond to the call of his adopted State for troops, and for four long years followed the varying fortunes of the Confederacy until she had to succumb to overwhelming numbers.
Ah, how he loved the South, and in speaking of the defeat of the Southern arms he became sad. It was his request that his old comrades act as pall bearers.
Out of six, four were old soldiers, the other two strong Southern sympathizers.
In 1868 he was appointed lighthouse
keeper of the Pascagoula river light, which position he held until ill health compelled him to resign, since which time he has lived in retirement on his farm. He leaves a noble and devoted wife who stood by him during his long illness. His funeral was held at the Baptist church, of which he was a member.

Pastor R. L. Mitchell officiating. His remains were laid to rest in the Protestant cemetery at Pascagoula.

"On fame's eternal camping ground
His silent tent is spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

Mr. Charles Lyons, a resident of this place for the past thirty years, died peacefully at his home on Delmas avenue last Friday at 8 o'clock p. m., at the golden age of eighty years. He was well and favorably known, having conducted a restaurant and lodging house.
He leaves a wife and three daughters,
Mrs. Alice Torjensen, of Pascagoula;
Mrs. Clara Moody, of Scranton; Mrs.
Ann Harris, of Horn Bay, Ala. and a stepdaughter, Mrs. J. S. Black, of Mobile. Mr. Lyons was a native of Mobile county, Ala. The funeral took place at 4 p. m. and the interment was made in the Catholic cemetery at Pasa-coula, Rev. Father Hippie performing the funeral ceremonies.

New Orleans and has assumed his old position as minstrel at the bar of the Cottage by the Sea.

Capt. W. R. Ritch, commander of the British steamship King David is being charmingly entertained at the "Oaks,"
the guest of Mrs. L. W. O'Connell.

Whoever stops at the Cottage by the Sea hotel will meet face to face with that host of hospitality, Capt. Chas.
Booster. For upwards of fifty years he has been identified with the fortuity of the Mississippi Sound Coast, and during such a length of time in gust or calm, Charley Booster has been always the same guaranty to his fellow man, that the enjoyment of life is due to us all, and that he has always done his part.

An event occurred at Horn Island Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, in which the interest of a great many here was excited. Pilot Chas. Brash and Miss Anna Catherine Johnson were married by Rev. C. D. Smith, Lutheran pastor of Scranton. Quite a party of their friends went over on the tug Dawn to attend the wedding. Mr. Brash is a bar pilot and Miss Johnson is a daughter of the lighthouse keeper. Mr. Chas. Johnson, the novel feature of the occasion was that the ceremony was performed over the treacherous waters of the Gulf of Mexico beneath the powerful glow of a red and white flash light of Uncle Sam to signal all mariners approaching our coast. The bride was handsomely attired in blue broad cloth trimmed with pearl passement and white corded silk.
A reception was given, the most hearty congratulations extended to the couple,
and "all went merry as a marriage bell."

EXCITING BEAR CHASE.

SWARTWOUT, Miss., Oct. 15, 1900.

Editor Democrat-Star.
On Tuesday, October 10th while Rufus Clark was cutting logs on Bayou Hermon he discovered that bears had killed five sheep. The next morning, accompanied by his brother, Jeff Clark, we went out for a bear chase. We found one and Jeff shot him twice, but failed to stop him, and as they had no dogs they had to give up the chase. There are lots of bears in this neighborhood, and we invite hunters to come with their dogs to help kill out these dangerous animals.

We intend to have a bear chase on the 25th of this month, starting from my house at 7 o'clock. Come, all bear hunters and join us in the chase.

Respectfully,
ELLIS CLARK.

Did it ever occur to you that the singing of the loons in the fall is a prelude to the concert of the winds and forests in which nature bursts forth in the wildest harmonies during the winter. These little orchestrians are with us now, and it is a pity but what we could interpret their song voices. We are sure they would give us lessons in providing for all our wants during the cold weather.
It is strange that all nature makes provision for the various changes of the year. Man is the only one who is improvident, and in spite of constant experience is caught unawares. Certain trees denude themselves of their leaves
so as to avoid loss by the wintry blast, certain animals lay up their store of provisions and so on throughout the world's economy.

Mr. Chas. Burr, for many years a clerk in Holcomb's drug store, Chicago, arrived
Thursday and will spend his vacation avenue.

meeting and elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Fred Turner, president; Ernest Pabst, vice president; Walter Davis, secretary and treasurer; all of which were elected unanimously.

Mrs. A. Morris, after a long illness, died at her home on Jackson avenue
Thursday morning, Oct. 11, aged 84 years. She was a devout Christian and has gone to her heavenly home where the weary cease from sorrow.

Capt. L. N. Hanson, a retired mariner, died at his home on Jackson avenue Sunday morning at 5 o'clock,
after an illness of about two months, aged 75 years. He was a tender figure here among the older residents. He was a native of Denmark and came to America when a youth. He leaves a widow to revere his memory. Remains accompanied the remains to New Orleans for interment in the Mairie Cemetery Monday morning.

MY DREAM.

For the DEMOCRAT-STAR.

I felt your arms steal round my neck,
Your sweet breath fanned my cheek.
Two precious lips were pressed to mine,
Oh joy supreme, I could not speak.
How sweet, long lingering kiss you gave Another, and to me it seemed
That Paradise was here on earth.
Alas! alas! I had but dream.
Then let me dream again of thee,
Of thy dear face and all thy charms,
Awake, and find it is no dream,
To hold thee close within my arms.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial
if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." For sale by McVee Young, Scranton, and J. W. Stewart, Moss Point, druggists.

WILLIAM BARNES CEMETERY

MARION CO. MS CEMETERY RECORDS
1988

WILLIAM BARNES CEMETERY

DESCRIPTION: A single marker in a cleared area, in good condition.

LOCATION: NE1/4 S23 T5N R18W, east of Bunker Hill.

DIRECTIONS: From the Hwy 13 intersection north of Columbia, proceed north on Hwy 35 for 5 1/2 miles. Turn right onto Williamsburg Rd., and travel 2.5 miles to a small green house on the left belonging to Theodore Broom (it is 0.35 miles past a bridge). Have Mr. or Mrs. Broom show you the marker, which sits in an open and cleaned out area, about 100 yards west of the house.

DATE RECORDED: 25 Oct 1986 by Margie Bailey, Lou Anderson, Guy Hathorn, and Stan Arnold.

FIRST KNOWN INTERMENT: 1869

LAST KNOWN INTERMENT: 1869

1. William BARNES, 13 Dec 1792 - 13 Jul 1869 (Mason); the marker sits on a base, and the bottom of it is chipping away, so that the death date will probably be lost in a few years.

There were probably several other people buried here, though no other graves can be distinguished.

MARRIED.

BARNES—CUNNINGHAM.—At the residence of the bride's father, at Grand Bay, Ala., Wednesday, September 28th, 1877, Miss Olive F. Cunningham, of Grand Bay, and Mr. J. W. Barnes, of Moss Point, Miss., Rev. J. P. Drake, officiating.

The groom, accompanied by several friends left Moss Point on the noon train, and on arrival at Grand Bay, proceeded at once to the home of the bride's father, where in a few moments the marriage rites were solemnized in an impressive manner by the Rev. Mr. Drake. The bride was lovely in a beautiful cream colored dress, and the groom was smilingly happy. The attendants of the couple were Miss Julia Cunningham and Mr. W. A. Coulson, and Miss Lelia Cunningham and Mr. Ed. R. Bragg.

Above the bridal party hung suspended a beautiful wrought evergreen horse shoe of good luck, to which was attached the letters "B. & C."

After the ceremony and congratulations, refreshments were served, and the guests whiled away a pleasant hour or so, until the arrival of the evening train, which brought the party to Moss Point.

At night Miss Sudbury tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Barnes a reception, and an elegant supper.

With other friends we unite in extending to Mr. Barnes and his fair bride our warmest congratulations, and our best wishes for the future.

OBITUARY FROM MISSISSIPPI MESSENGER, 9 June, 1807

Col. E. Barnes

"Died at his farm at Gibson Port on Saturday, the 30th ult. in the ___th year of his age, Col. E. Barnes. In Col. Barnes the nation has lost another and not the least distinguished of the worthy band of heroes, whose patriotic efforts arrested the progress of British despotism and gave to the states liberty and independence. Few have done more public business or been more faithful in the discharge of it, than Col. Barnes. He represented his home county in N.C., his native State, for 16 years together without ever losing an election. His demeanor in private life uniformly bespoke him the friend of his Country and of man."

Roberta, did your Nathaniel Barnes live in Sumner Co., TN, in 1816 (early TN tax lists, spelling of surname is Barns)? If so, do you know anything about a Lowen Barns, who lived there also at the same time? I wonder if Lowen is really Lofton (Loftin, Lofton), who may be a relative of a Barns I'm tracking -- John S. Barns (1813 AL-1850s TX), mar. Martha Cannon (1817 SC, 1860s/1870s TX) ca. 1836 Yalobusha Co., MS. I suspect John was in Tennessee before he was in Mississippi.

Jeanne, I am tracking a Barns or Barnes family, too, who were in Mississippi after migrating from the East (Ala. is the only Eastern state I'm sure of that they were in). They were in Yalobusha Co., MS, and for a long time I suspected they'd been in Tishomingo Co., too. I hired a researcher named Mrs. Bud Dees (Anita) there to check out everything on Barns/Barnes that she could find. This did not lead to my John S. Barns (b. ca. 1813 AL, d. after 1853 Tarrant Co., TX), marr. Martha Cannon (b. ca. 1817 SC, d. after 1853, Tarrant Co., TX) -- at least so far I don't know a connection.

However, I have copies of deeds, will names/dates, vital statistics, and other items on this surname in Tishomingo Co., and I am willing to send you copies of everything (about 20 pp.) for the cost of photocopying and postage. I think this would be about $3.00. I'd be interested in a family group sheet on your Barneses (and would subtract your costs in sending that to me from the $3.00, if you are interested).

The other documents indicate several John Barnes families. There may have been more than one Charles, or Charles had more than one wife, according to marriage records.

W. H. Tyner married Louisa I./J. Barnes 11 Sep 1839.

There are wills for Charles; S.A.; E. F., A. J., minors

There appear to have been two Dennis Barneses, one older and one younger, in the 1840 Tishomingo Co. census. Others were John, Charles, Jesse, and Davis M. Perhaps you know all of this.

I would think you could track Tyners in the accelerated than Barneses. It's quite possible that your Barnes and Tyner families knew each other for many years and lived near

James Barnes One of East

Discoverer of Tyler County Black Lands 100 Years Ago Called 'Panther' After Hunt

Great Grandfather of J. Austin Barnes, Beaumont, is Founder of Methodist Church Which Stands Today at Mt. Hope

By DEAN TEVIS

EARLY in 1836, when thousands in the old states were speaking the name of Texas, James Barnes of Mississippi, who had been born in an American fort in North Carolina during the Revolution, struck the immigrant trail to Texas. He was a man who felt it almost a sacred duty to follow the American frontier as it moved westward. With him were 11 black slaves. His trail end for a little while was in Angelina county where he built his cabin between Buck and Biloxi creeks. There, in one hunting expedition, he killed 14 panthers and won the name of "Panther Barnes," which remained with him until he died.

In thirty-seven, following the Texas revolution and the eviction of Mexicans from between the rivers of east Texas, he discovered the black lands of northern Tyler county—Cauble Prairie—and there he settled. He founded Mount Hope Methodist church, which was among the first few Methodist churches in Texas, and about which grew the present peaceful, sleepy little community of Mount Hope. James Barnes' story, rich in detail, mellowed by almost a century, brings him out as one of the great east Texas pioneers—of the company of men who built a country—dauntless, sturdy, God-fearing, the Pathfinder.

James Barnes, great-grandfather of Malcolm Barnes of Chester, his sisters, and J. Austin Barnes of Beaumont, was a figure to conjure with. He was the father of nine children, whom he had left, with their mother, Tabitha Hough Barnes, in Mississippi. A man who loved the edges of the wilderness, he left them in an out-of-the-way, wild part of the state. Tabitha was captured by Indians while James was on a long trading expedition, just before he came to Texas. She was made to dance in a scene very reminiscent of a Leather Stocking tale.

Bill Rides Back

The head of the family established himself in Tyler county and sent for his wife and children. At the head of the caravan was Bill, an older son. They carried $3600 all in gold. It was while they were camped west of the Mississippi in Louisiana that they discovered they Mount Hope, near Tyler, Texas, the birthplace of the Kirbys, once the home of Governor Ross Sterling's forebears, and famous as the camping ground of the Alabama Indians—Texas' last redmen—who now live on a reservation in Polk county. Both are near the sunny village of Chester, on the highway from Woodville to Naacodoches, and the three communities in reality form one.

It is a charming oasis of east Texas, with charming people, descendants of the early Barnes, Barclays, and other pioneer families. It bears perhaps more of the true flavor of old east Texas than any other spot. Anderson Barclay left here to join Deaf Smith at San Jacinto. The Barnes stood ready with sturdy rifles in sturdy hands to defend their newfound homeland.

Wishing Rock

Here you drink from Barnes Spring, near the site of one of the first homes in northern Tyler, which has been flowing and quenching thirst for nearly a hundred years. Here you are intrigued to let your feet larry a while at Wishing Rock, where the ladies of the early Barnes generations sat, on the narrow woods road from Peach Tree to Mount Hope, and wept silently with homesickness for their friends in old Mississippi—far, far to the east. Here you find the old log schoolhouse where Bob Barnes went to school with John Henry Kirby, and they spat tobacco between the cracks in the logs.

Here you see four or five of the most interesting pioneer graveyards in Texas. Here you cross and recross the famous old Beef Trail—the only east and west road through east Texas, which ran from San Antonio to far east of the Sabine.

And here you drink from old cups, and old wells, while you hear from the lips of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, who cherish the stories, and repeat them with solemn accuracy, tales of the very beginnings of east Texas. Redbud blooms in early spring, as calendars come and go, yet Chester, Mount Hope, and Peach Tree remain with all their old-timey sweetness through the years.

James Barnes, great-grandfather of Malcolm Barnes of Chester, his sisters, and J. Austin Barnes of Beaumont, was a figure to conjure with. He was the father of nine children, whom he had left, with their mother, Tabitha Hough camped west of the Mississippi in Louisiana that they discovered they had lost the money.

The tale is one of the favorites of the family at Chester. They related they had laid it on a stump at one of the camps they had made in Mississippi. So Bill sent his mother and the children on along the trail to the Sabine while he began a fast ride back to look for the lost gold.

Of course they had to frequently pay for their lodgings, and so Bill Barnes told his mother, "You tell them that in a few days a tall red-faced fellow on a horse will come along and pay your bills."

She did, and Bill, several days behind, did follow her trail and pay the bills. He had to use the same procedure at every house he stopped on his way back to Mississippi, where he didn't find the money, but where he borrowed enough to get the family west of the Neches, where they were to establish a home and the names of Barnes.

A Visit to Texas

A little while after that Sam Barnes, the oldest of the flock, and who had just taken unto himself a wife, hitched an ox and a mule to a covered wagon in Nashoba county, Mississippi, and started west to pay his mother and father a visit.

This chapter of the story brought the establishing of Mount Hope church.

The day Sam and his bride arrived there was in progress an old-time revival, or Methodist camp meeting. Camp meetings were then in their day of glory in Georgia and Alabama. It seems that two Englishmen, Methodists, were conducting it at the Barnes pioneer cabin, and the event was in full swing. There steps into the picture here one Aunt Mary, a venerable negro slave, favorite of the family, who was preparing and serving cornbread and collards to the revival congregation. With all the aplomb of an old, white-haired negress of antebellum days, she was officiating.

There, in the wilderness, was laid the foundations of the present historic Mount Hope church. Two, three, or four buildings followed three, or four buildings followed the first little structure of logs, and, for the meager community, the present building is indeed a credit, but they will never forget the first one. Sam and his wife drove back to Mississippi, reared a family, but always remembered Texas. The memory was so strong

THE Mt. Hope Methodist church near Chester in northern Texas, is one of east Texas oldest churches. It is the third oldest in the county. Chester, a descendant of James, is shown in the insert examining the first church building whose history is somewhat dimmed by the mists of time. The church is among the most interesting spots in the county.

Sturdy Relics Left

Sam Barnes, whose middle name was Hough, was the grandfather of Malcolm Barnes of Chester. He is a member of the fourth generation in Texas. Each generation, down to the fifth, has in it a James.

One compelling fact is that you may find today, so many of the old buildings—not those erected in those mid-thirties of the first James Barnes, but those of the mid and late forties and the fifties. The finest, perhaps, is one near the larger of the Barnes burial grounds, where the first Barnes to die in Texas was laid, near the corner of the original log house, under quaint log rafters. From the grave, surrounded by others of succeeding generations—about all of whom there are cherished stories—the visitor walks up a slight slope across a little, to one of the sturdiest log cabins a pioneer ever built in east Texas.

It lies today on the land of John Henry Kirby. It was built of the most solid, and the largest logs, as solid, as perfect today as it was 35 years ago.

That house, where the early Barnes lived, should be preserved, and marked, as should other keepsakes of that charmed little valley of Russell creek near Cauble prairie. For these houses and revered spots give to this generation clearly the story of how their forebears lived—how the pioneer struggled for an existence on the roads which today we travel by motor. Not far away are the sites of the old Sterling and Barnes grist and sawmills.

They are not far from the home of Uncle Tom Seamens, sage of the delightful valley, who goes back a little farther than any other living person there, and who has a rich store of accurate pioneer lore.

Old Peter Cauble

One of the first to come into that part of Tyler was Peter Cauble. Great tales are told of Peter. The

Old Peter Cauble

One of the first to come into that part of Tyler was Peter Cauble. Great tales are told of Peter. The land of Cauble prairie was a grant, originally from Mexico to a Spaniard, one G. Arrango. It lay in the colony of the Empresario Edwards. Here, in a grand old log house still standing and doing duty, one of the Barnes courted a girl of one of the Cauble generations. It is intriguing to find a water-jug of ancient design and making, on the gallery, still serving, as it has through moons and years upon years. Many of the old dwellings, perhaps a little finer, and a little larger log houses than you will find in other communities of east Texas, were built more often than not with slave labor. That was the case with the homes of the Barnes.

In the same cemeteries with their masters, the slaves were buried. That was done then, it is explained to you. And you come to realize that the slave was more slave in name than otherwise. He, too, was the pioneer, for he came down the trail, crossed the river and cut a way often through the forests, with the white families whose names he bore. He loved them, and they loved him. So he sleeps with them for all time—sharing their burial ground as he shared their graciousness in life. The negroes of northern Tyler are descendants of the Barnes and other family slaves. There was a sort of aristocracy among them. Often they fought with their masters in the Civil war. Among the names you will find in the little communities centered by the village of Chester are Hendrix, Barnes, McQueen, Burch, Burton, Seamens and Barclay, all pioneer names. Add to this, of course, the Kirbys.

The First Texas Code

Until about 1870, following the reconstruction, when northern troops were camped at Woodville, as well as every other established county seat in Texas, there was little or no law, save that of the
